Why Zeno Matters

Every child deserves the opportunity to feel confident in math. Research shows that early math skills are among the strongest predictors of later academic success, yet many children enter kindergarten without the confidence or experiences needed to build a strong foundation for learning.

For more than 20 years, Zeno has believed that parents and caregivers are a child's first and most important teacher. That's why we work alongside families, educators, and trusted community partners to make joyful math learning part of everyday life.

Through multilingual, hands-on math games, family and community events, and professional learning for educators, Zeno helps children and the parenting adults who support them discover that math can be playful, engaging, and accessible.

Our approach is rooted in family engagement, racial equity, and trusted community partnerships that reflect the strengths, languages, and lived experiences of the communities we serve. Together, we help ensure that every child has access to early math experiences where they feel valued, capable, and excited to learn.

"Zeno engages the whole family, and I don't know of any other organization that does this work, especially not around math. The various language and the visual instructions [in Zeno Math Gammes] are really helpful".

Your Investment Creates Community-Wide Impact

Supporting Zeno is an investment in more than one organization—it's an investment in a statewide network of trusted community partners serving children and families every day.

Many of the schools, libraries, family resource centers, and community organizations Zeno works alongside are navigating growing financial pressures while demand for family programming continues to increase. Your investment helps offset program costs, allowing these organizations to continue bringing joyful math experiences to the children and families they serve while equipping them with high-quality, culturally responsive resources.

Together, we're strengthening families, supporting trusted community organizations, and helping more children develop the confidence and curiosity that lead to lifelong learning and future success.

Your Impact Through Zeno

- 12,774 math games distributed
- 3,303 children and families reached
- 13 community partners
- Family math events across Washington
- Thousands of joyful math experiences created

"The children show so much excitement and progress in their math skills when we play these games in the classroom. I keep a cabinet of the Zeno math games to use as one of our table activities a few times a week!"
